

#ThingsWeDoForLove

Love is blind and yes, it pulls us out of existence. How can those who confined to each other abruptly decide to end their lives due to impractical reasons ?

It is so disturbing and ridiculous to know that the same people who were destined to be together , bestowed their precious lives to the troubles.

On the other hand , a boy who once loved a girl favoured money inorder to study abroad assuring that he'll comeback.

Guess what happened?

He fled !

Trust worthy relations are so scarce nowadays
