

Greediness never wins

The story is all about two fellow lovers ,who loved each other immensely and finally got married and started a happy life together without any misunderstandings.Love filled their worlds no entry for anyone.

Jack and Lilly lived in an independent house and everything was going happily and smoothly.Jack kept Lilly always happy and made all her wishes come true .He goes to office everyday and calls her wife every afternoon. one day as usual he goes to office ,Lilly hears the phone call and ask her maid to lift it, as she was not feeling well (she was resting in her room).Lilly's maid lift the call(it was landline.) and talks to the person on the phone." she says that- madam is not well and tell him to return home early."Then he replies- that he is so busy with some stuff and also tell that -"she will always pretend to be innocent and do a lot of overacting and disturb him a lot". Suddenly an idea strikes in his brain and he tells the maid- that "you take a knife,go and kill her! she has a lot of property on her name and I will also give you a good share in it ".The cunning maid follows the cruel person's order and kills Lilly". The maid ask him-where to throw the dead body?he replies that-" put her in a big travel bag and throw it in a beach which is just behind our house".Then the maid replies -"where the hell is the beach behind our house?who are you?then he replies -I am Mr.Soy.I think I have dialled up a wrong number!sorry for inconvenience.... and end ups the call.
